2016 Small Families Campaign Coordinator for Spring Semester, 2016

The Utah Population and Environment Council (UPEC) seeks an individual who can support media efforts for the small families campaign as well as help develop future media/outreach opportunities.

The individual will have the ability to review and update small families campaign materials as well as work with outlets for media coverage. The individual will also work on grant and other possibilities for further outreach of the small families campaign. The person will be supervised by the board chair and a board member.

Responsibilities:
● Review and update the small families website to ensure content is appropriate and welcoming to target audiences.
● Work with the Council for content and placement of media promotional materials.
● Write reports of the effectiveness of the media campaign and materials.
● Help develop grants for additional funding of the small families campaign
● Help with other outreach activities for the small families campaign such as booths at various events, and/or other possibilities.

Time commitment
● This would most likely be a student internship of 135 hours.

Compensation
● UPEC will provide a $500 stipend

About the Utah Population and Environment Council
The Utah Population and Environment Council is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization. The mission is to promote a sustainable balance with human population and the environment. Information about UPEC is available on our website at www.utahpopulation.org. The Small Families Campaign website is www.smallfamilies.us. (Note: The Utah Population and Environment Council began operating as a separate non-profit organization in 2015. However, the Utah Population and Environment Coalition began in 1997 and will operate under the umbrella of WHALE – Wellness, Health and Lifestyle Education through 2015. In 2016, the Council will continue the Coalition efforts with a slightly different name and organizational status.)

To apply, please submit information to contact@utahpop.org. Provide a cover letter and resume. Also provide three references. Candidates will be contacted for interviews.
